Project Homeless Connect
Planning Overview

1.0 - The Purpose of Project Homeless Connect
In one day at a Point in Time & Project Homeless Connect event, a person experiencing homelessness will be surveyed and can find services that would otherwise take months to secure. During each event, corporations, nonprofits, and government agencies provide participants with services through PHC. These services include dental care, eyeglasses, housing information, food, hygiene products, medical care, mental health services, SSI benefits, legal advice, Washington State identification cards, cell phones, employment counseling/job placement, addiction services, and more.

1.1 History of Project Homeless Connect
From its origins in San Francisco where it was pioneered by Mayor Gavin Newsom in January 2004, Project Homeless Connect (PHC) was built on models of response to Hurricane Katrina and Stand Down for veterans. PHC has been identified by the United States Interagency Council on Homelessness as an innovation that can move people more quickly toward housing and stability and furthers the goals of community 10 Year Plans to end homelessness. With encouragement and technical assistance from the Council, Project Homeless Connect has now been adopted by more than 220 communities, large and small, in the U.S., Canada and Australia in less than three years.

1.2 On a Smaller scale
Yakima Valley Conference of Governments is inviting local cities and towns to actively engage in countywide activities such as the Annual Point in Time and Project Homeless Connect, linking the homeless with services and providing food and housing vouchers, medical and eye screenings, a warm meal and even a haircut. Currently Project Homeless Connect events are being held, simultaneously, in Sunnyside, Toppenish, at the Yakama Nation, and Yakima. While the Project Homeless Connect events are being held, the Conference also requires that the Point in Time Survey be conducted.

The resources available in smaller, potentially rural counties are often limited compared to large areas like San Francisco and, as a result, Project Homeless Connect events vary in size, content and frequency in each community. Regardless of the size, every event shares a common intent – to remedy the homelessness of their neighbors.
1.3 Annual Point in Time Count

Every year the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) requires communities to conduct sheltered counts of people living in emergency shelter or transitional housing. Every other year, HUD requires communities to conduct unsheltered counts of people living in a place unfit for human habitation (such as in an abandoned building or in a park). Some years both counts are required, so every community will be conducting both a sheltered and an unsheltered count. Yakima Valley Conference of Governments conducts this survey during the Project Homeless Connect event. We are able to bring some of the homeless population to Project Homeless Connect by providing free services while also conducting the annual point in time survey count.

The Homelessness Housing and Assistance Act (ESSHB 2163 - 2005) requires each county to conduct an annual point in time count of sheltered and unsheltered homeless persons in Washington State (See RCW 43.185C.030) in accordance with the requirements of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).
