ABOUT THE YAKIMA VALLEY COUNCIL OF GOVERNMENTS ...

Established 50 years ago, the Yakima Valley Conference of Governments (“YVCOG”) was then and is today, a group of community members who are committed to working on homelessness, land use, transportation, environment and human services’ issues that impact the quality of life for the communities of the Yakima region. Yakima Valley COG serves as an intermediary between the communities it represents and the state and federal government entities that are responsible for ensuring the decisions made at the local level are aligned with state and federal laws, and that government resources are managed. The overall mission of Yakima Valley Conference of Government membership is to improve the valleys’ livability and secure its future.

Located in the center of the state, Yakima County is the second largest county in Washington. The region is a rich and productive agricultural valley which is surrounded by lush rivers and mountain ranges. Well known for its apples and its production of fruit and vegetables, in recent years it has received national recognition for its many vineyards. Home to approximately 247,200 people, 41% of whom are Hispanic and Latino, the region is culturally rich and diverse. Applicants will find a family friendly environment that offers affordable housing with a median cost of housing in the mid-$150,000. Small town living galore, the region offers urban living in the City of Yakima, which is the largest city in the county, while small farms and more rural living is of abundance in the surrounding cities. The Yakima Indian Reservation, which is home to 30% of the region’s population, is the 15th largest Native American tribe in the nation.

Outdoor sports are abundant year around and include fishing, camping, hiking, water sports and snow skiing.
